Dear Eagle Academy Applicant,

The Eagle Academy (EA), an independent study program, is among the unique programs offered at MCS. The EA provides local home school families with access to higher level academics, performing arts, athletics and more that would otherwise be unavailable. Candidates for this program must meet certain qualifying criteria, evidenced through an application and interview process. Additionally,

- once enrolled in 9th grade in our traditional (on-campus) program, transfers opportunities are limited and may only be approved by the Division Principal for extraordinary circumstances
- applicants must have a history of home school or alternative education environments, exclusive of pandemic period distance learning
- parents must have clear capacity to facilitate an independent study environment including an adequate and productive home study work space for the student, must be physically present with the student to manage learning in the home, and prior teaching, education or professional experience conducive to independent study programs
- parents must also guide students through curriculum, grade assignments and maintain a gradebook for all homeschooled subjects; as well as regularly turn in work samples to EA Coordinator
- financially motivated interests will not be approved by the Division Principal
- parents/students must be genuinely called to an independent study structure
- students must demonstrate through their academic record that they are motivated independent learners

Division Principals have the authority to accept a limited number of transfers each year for those highly qualified candidates. Please understand that the application process is no guarantee of Eagle Academy placement.
